Dear World... we did it. Collegiate Cambridge campaign delivers lasting impact.

The ‘Dear World… Yours, Cambridge’ campaign has created bursaries, studentships, academic posts, institutes, and funding for new buildings.

So far, 30 Cambridge undergraduates have received bursaries created by the Get In Cambridge campaign, and five Get In Cambridge Master’s students have come to Trinity Hall. The Harding Distinguished Postgraduate Scholars Programme now supports 78 students from 30 countries.

Cambridge Zero has recently received funding from the Natural Environment Research Council and Quadrature Climate Foundation; planning for a pioneering new children’s hospital is underway; and an exciting partnership to create more than 1,000 Cambridge scholarships for young people in Africa.

The funds raised ensure that collegiate Cambridge continues to provide the very best teaching and research, and to attract and nurture the world’s brightest minds. Reaching the impressive £2B fundraising milestone would not have been possible without the generous support of our alumni, friends and volunteers.

Every gift to College was counted towards the collegiate campaign total. Thank you to everyone who has donated.

ENHANCING OUR COMMUNITY’S WELLBEING

Lisa Déry joined as Trinity Hall’s first Head of Wellbeing in September. Your support made this possible.

This is a very exciting time for wellbeing at Cambridge. The strategic review of mental health highlighted the need to adopt a multi-disciplinary approach to supporting students across the collegiate university, encouraging prevention and early intervention. My role was created to take forward this vision at Trinity Hall and your support has been instrumental in making this possible.

In addition to working with a wonderful team to provide students with the right level of support at the right time with the right person, my job is also to promote wellbeing more generally. I will work with students, Fellows and staff across the community to consider how, together, we can improve wellbeing, and promote the autonomy and resilience of students. We will support students in fully embracing their student experience and developing life skills that will see them through post-study life.

My role is not just about supporting the wellbeing of students, staff and Fellows at Trinity Hall, but also actively improving their wellbeing.

Your gifts to the Trinity Hall Fund made the Head of Wellbeing post possible. Thanks to your collective generosity, we can enhance wellbeing support across our community, providing vital structures and expertise for those who need it.
YOUR HELP ALLOWS ALL OUR STUDENTS TO ENJOY THE CAMBRIDGE EXPERIENCE

The support offered through the undergraduate bursary allows students from low-income households to pay for living expenses, as well as take part in extra curricular activities. It helps alleviate financial pressures and ensures that they make the most of their time in Cambridge. Here’s what your generosity has meant:

“Receiving this bursary was immensely helpful – as a first-generation student from social housing I spent a lot of time prior to coming to Cambridge stressing about all the things I would miss out on because of financial difficulties. However, receiving this fund has helped to alleviate these worries and allowed me to take part in enriching events with friends like theatre trips. Thank you so much for your support, it means a lot to me and makes me feel proud to be a Trinity Hall student!”

NatSci undergraduate student, 2019

“The money allowed me to pay for many aspects of student life, including travel when moving and helping to pay for accommodation. Without the bursary not only would term time become far more difficult, but my studying during holidays would have to be curtailed in favour of a part-time job or similar in order to support myself. The bursaries I have received at Trinity Hall have made my student life at Cambridge possible.”

Computer Science undergraduate student, 2020

“This money was incredibly helpful this year for allowing me to play sport and make the most of Cambridge life outside of academia. Our time at university has been very disrupted but luckily this year we were more able to socialise and make new friends. Thanks to this bursary I’ve been able to really enjoy the last of my time in Cambridge.”

DIFFERENT-SIZED DONATIONS HAVE MADE A BIG IMPACT ON OUR SPORTS COMMUNITY

Basketball hoop

Give TogeTHer 2021 raised £224,803 from 449 donors towards pastoral care, clubs and societies, and initiatives which have helped our students’ wellbeing. Thanks to these donations, a new basketball hoop was installed at Wychifield.

“With the academic pressures of studying at Cambridge, it is important to remember to stay healthy both physically and mentally. Sport generally, and basketball specifically, is a great way to be active in a social environment, in a way that can cater to a wide range of athletic abilities.”
Dr Greg Taujanskas (2011, Maths), Fellow in Mathematics and former Trinity Hall Basketball Society member

“We have a thriving basketball community at College and these hoops will make playing more accessible for all of us.”
Calvin Hartley (2019, History & Politics), THBS President

Aula Club

This year, four Trinity Hall students were involved in the University Sports Awards. The financial support they’ve received from the Aula Club has been key in providing them access to clubs’ memberships, practices, training matches and competitions.

“Without the Aula Club grants, I wouldn’t have been able to afford as many practices and training matches, which were absolutely essential for improving as a player.”
Camila Cimadamore-Werthein (2018, Medicine & Medical Sciences), Outstanding Contribution to University Sport award winner for her fundraising and field efforts for the Polo Club

“The Aula Club has been very generous, and I am incredibly grateful. The College has also been incredibly supportive. Without that I wouldn’t have been able to perform at a high level.”
