Join our supportive and dynamic Wellbeing Team to work in our unique setting.

You will be an experienced and qualified wellbeing professional with the ability to engage empathetically with young people. You will be essential in delivering high-quality assessment, triage, referrals and ‘one-at-a-time’ and intermittent wellbeing support for students and the wider college community. You will contribute toward the development and delivery of a programme of wellbeing initiatives, activities and training opportunities.

Main Duties

- Delivering assessment and triage, working collaboratively with students to determine the appropriate support or intervention for their level of wellbeing, functioning and mental health in order to achieve safe and effective outcomes.
- Providing ‘one-at-a-time’ and intermittent wellbeing support informed by evidence-based practice, working fluently with the University’s wider Student Support services within a stepped care approach
- Facilitating referral to, and liaising with, NHS or specialist services where appropriate
- Working collaboratively with a range of University and College staff to offer professional advice and case coordination
- Contributing to the development and delivery of a year-round programme of wellbeing initiatives, activities and events, including training.
